

Queen's Academic Excellence Awards (AEA)

($15,000 for MSc Students and $30,000 for PhD Students)

The new Academic Excellence Awards (AEA) are one more way in which Queen's University invests in Canada's most talented graduate students. Valued at $15,000 for MSc students and $30,000 for PhD students entering their first year of study, the Academic Excellence Awards add to an already impressive $28 Million in merit-based Queen's funding available to graduate students each year.

More information on the Academic Excellence Awards, including application instructions and deadlines, can be found here.