1. You are expected to attend all lectures. If you miss one, it is your responsibility to understand all material from that lecture and to get any handouts/information given.

2. There is a strict policy with regard to the use of calculators on tests. Only Casio 991 series calculator is permitted in your exams.

3. All tests and exams are mandatory, and can only be missed through pre-arrangement, or due to illness/family emergency. Notification by email is required within 3 days of the missed test in the case of illness/family emergency (copies of supporting documents are required).

4. Missed test (with appropriate notification and necessary documents) will be relocated to your final exam in December. Missed tests without a reason/notification will be given a grade of zero.
Academic integrity is constituted by the five core fundamental values of honesty, trust, fairness, respect and responsibility. These values are central to the building, nurturing and sustaining of an academic community in which all members of the community will thrive.

Students are responsible for familiarizing themselves with the regulations concerning academic integrity and for ensuring that their assignments conform to the principles of academic integrity. Information on academic integrity is available in the Arts and Science Calendar (Regulation 1.), on the Arts and Science website (see http://www.queensu.ca/calendars/artsci/integrity/index.html).

Teaching assistants for the course will be keeping an eye open for violations of academic integrity rules. Offences of academic integrity will receive serious penalties and will result in a failing grade for the course.
