Grading Rubric – Homework

5 Points: A complete and accurate solution to the problem is given.

4 Points: All parts of the problem have been completed, but there are some minor errors or omissions.

3 Points: All parts of the problem have been completed, but there are three or more minor errors and omissions or a major error or omission.

1 – 2 Points: The problem was started, but little or no progress toward a complete solution was made. Alternatively, some part of the problem was not completed.

Missing Pieces
Most homework problems will have multiple parts. Submissions which are missing parts of a problem entirely will be given no more than two points for the problem, regardless of the work that is present.
